Code of Ethics & Professional Conduct for Referees of the Football Association of Ireland

The Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct for Referees should guide all registered referees¹, Observers², association officials³ and members⁴ of the Football Association of Ireland with regard to ethical behaviour and professional conduct. The Code should be read in conjunction with the FAI Rules.

Preamble

Integrity in sport is a core value underpinning the notion of 'Fair Play.' Integrity is also a fundamental and core value underpinning the task of refereeing. Failure to uphold this value can result in the principles of objectivity, honesty and independence breaking down. Consequently everyone associated with the sport has a duty and responsibility to ensure that the core values associated with fair play are upheld.

It is not alone the practice and art of refereeing a football game that these values apply but also to all administrative, training and development functions.

The code equally applies and should be adhered to by all personnel immediately associated with these functions and also to all participants in the sport both actively and administratively.⁵

Code of Ethics & Professional Conduct for Referees

This Code consists of four overall ethical principles, which subsume a number of specific ethical standards.

³ Association Official refers to all administrative personnel including appointments officers, disciplinary committee members, league officials and employees of the FAI.

⁴ Members of the FAI refers to registered players, technical staff, managers, directors and administrators of teams and clubs.

Principle: Referees are obliged to be honest, impartial, objective and professional in carrying out their duties as outlined in the Laws of the Game and in terms of representing the Football Association and the League to which they are assigned.

Specifically, referees shall: -

- 1.9 Act to stop or limit the activities of a colleague, Observer or official that is clearly harmful or unethical and bring such actions to the attention of the association.
